Lough Allen and Sliabh an Iarainn

Drumshanbo

Drumshanbo is located on the shores of Lough Allen, at the foothills of Sliabh an Iarainn (the iron mountain). Drumshanbo is a busy town in the centre of Leitrim with a very active community council who have developed a number of large projects such as the redevelopment of an old factory into a state of the art Food Hub, a community childcare project and a childcare project for children with special needs as well as developing a community enterprise centre.

- Drumshanbo is the next nearest town to Carrick on Shannon and is located on the R280 which is the major road linking North and South Leitrim and onwards to Dublin or Belfast.

- Close to the rail network at Carrick on Shannon and is just over an hour from the Ireland West International and Sligo regional airports.
- Broadband enabled through wireless broadband and is the base for a number of software companies.
- Base for the fully equipped Food Hub which houses a variety of food manufacturing companies under the one roof and also has a community kitchen and computer suite which is available for companies to test out new products.
- Department of Agriculture has decentralised some of its offices to the town and there is also a number of other agencies located in the town including County Leitrim Partnership, Citizens Information Centre, County Childcare Committee and Leitrim Organic Co-Operative.
- Has an outdoors amenity facility and playground at Acres Lake as well as an adventure centre on Lough Allen. Due to its proximity to Lough Allen and Sliabh an Iarainn, it is the ideal location for those interested in water sports and other outdoor activities such as hill walking.
- An indoor and outdoor swimming pool and a leisure centre.
- Good mixture of restaurants, bars and shopping, especially in the craft areas.
